Desk research

Literature research focuses on acquiring theoretical knowledge about a concept or topic, whereas desk research is used to gather facts and existing research data that help to answer specific research questions.

Questions:

- 1. What are the main traveling issues? Indeed, the changes in routine, unpredictability, crowds, new noises and sights can all make the experience difficult for people on the spectrum and of subjects involved in traveling and volunteers' support?
